Are you a BC resident living with mental illness and pursuing post-secondary education?

Apply online for a bursary or scholarship by July 9, 2017

Visit www.cmha.bc.ca/bursary to learn more and apply

The Canadian Mental Health Association, BC Division administers several bursaries and scholarships to encourage and enable people living with mental illness pursue post-secondary education:

- Lorne Fraser Educational Bursary ($700) for individuals in BC currently enrolled or thinking of applying to post-secondary education or job training
- Lorne Fraser Scholarship for Mental Health Promotion ($1,000 or $2,000) for BC university or college students pursuing a career related to mental health

Canadian Mental Health Association
British Columbia
Mental health for all