

Request for Proposals – Demographic Data Collection

The Canadian Mental Health Association (CMHA) strives to reach all Canadians to promote mental health and well-being. The CMHA's BC Division (CMHA BC) is looking inward at its staff and volunteer complement to understand how the team reflects the diversity present in British Columbia, this demographic data collection will be an important first step.

In line with recent legislation passed in BC (Anti-Racism Data Act) and building on the recommendations from the B.C. Human Rights Commissioner's report (The Grandmother Perspective) disaggregated data can be used to address systemic discrimination.

About the Canadian Mental Health Association, BC Division

The Canadian Mental Health Association is Canada's most established mental health charity and a nation-wide leader and champion for mental health.

CMHA BC helps people access the resources they need to maintain and improve mental health, build resilience, and support recovery from mental health and substance use disorders. Each year in BC alone, CMHA supports more than 100,000 people across the province.
